

Respiratory Therapy

RT @ OSU Dates & Deadlines

Our admission options are flexible; even high school seniors can apply! We usually admit students at the freshman and sophomore levels, or at the junior level, if vacancies are in a class. The freshman and sophomore years are considered pre-professional. Courses in the Respiratory Therapy major start Autumn quarter at the junior level.

Junior Level Admission for Au'10

- This option is available, but limited to the number of vacancies in the class. Contact RT @ OSU for space availability.
- If you apply before December 31, 2009 and you plan to complete ALL prerequisites before Autumn 2010, you will be considered for junior-level admission to RT for Autumn 2010.
- If admitted for junior level Autumn 2010, you would start the RT major courses Autumn 2010.
- Your projected graduation would be June, 2012

Sophomore Level Admission for Au'10

- This is the most popular admission option.
- If you apply before March 1, 2010 and you plan to complete the "Prerequisites for Admission" before Autumn 2010, you will be considered for admission to RT for Autumn 2010 at sophomore level.
- Your admission decision may wait until you complete the "Prerequisites for Admission."
- During your sophomore year you would complete the "Prerequisites to Start RT"
- You would start the RT major courses Autumn 2011, if you complete ALL prerequisite courses by Autumn 2011.
- Your projected graduation would be June, 2013.

Freshman Level Admission

- If you are a high school senior, you may qualify for Direct Admission to RT as a first quarter freshman for Autumn 2010.
- If you complete ALL prerequisite courses by Autumn 2012, you would start the RT major courses Autumn 2012.
- Your projected graduation would be June, 2014.
- A definite 4-year plan!
