

MELTON CENTER FOR JEWISH STUDIES PRESENTS

OMNIVORE'S DILEMMA:

EATING JEWISHLY IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Thursday, March 20, 2014

OSU Hillel, 46 E 16th Ave.

6 pm- kosher, eco-friendly snack and information tables

7 pm- lecture and discussion

Featuring

NIGEL SAVAGE

Founder of Hazon, a world-leading Jewish based environmental group.

What happens when 3,000 years of Jewish food traditions connect with the complexities of eating in the 21st century? In this evening's lecture, Nigel Savage, one of the key leaders of the contemporary Jewish Food Movement, will share his insights – and tell a story about three goats.

Supported by the Gretel Bloch fund.

Co-sponsored by The Ohio State University's School of Environment and Natural Resources; Agroecosystems
Management Program; Office of Student Life Multicultural
Center; Office of Energy Management & Sustainability;
OSU Hillel; and Ohio Interfaith Power and Light (OIPL)

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY